

DISTRIBUTION OF MEDICAL WORKERS IN CHINA

- # OF MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS* VS. # OF DOCTORS PER 10,000 PEOPLE

Cartographer: Chenhao Lu

Date: 2021/05/02

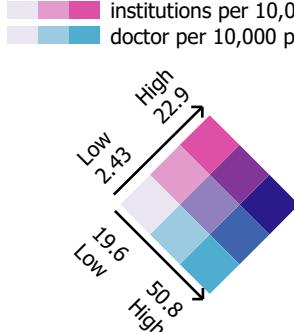

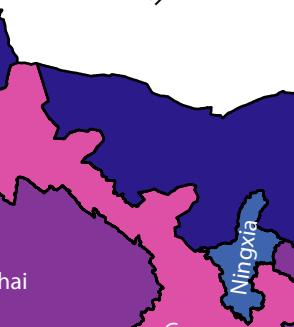

Coordinate System

- Asia North Albers Equal Area Conic

Source:

- <https://www.shangyexinzhi.com/article/344247.html>
- <https://www.askci.com/news/chanye/20200701/1529111162854.shtml>
- statista.com for population, GADM for basemap

Noun project icons: Red Cross by Anagaja Design institutions per 10,000 people

 doctor per 10,000 people

Less developed regions in northwest China rank higher on the institution scale because of their relatively small population.

Xinjiang

Xizang

Qinghai

Sichuan

Yunnan

Gansu

Shaanxi

Hubei

Guizhou

Hunan

Jiangxi

Fujian

Jiangsu

Anhui

Guangxi

Guangdong

Hainan

Nei Menggu

Beijing

Tianjin

Hebei

Shandong

Liaoning

Jilin

Heilongjiang

Shanghai has 12.79 doctors per institution, highest of all provinces.

More developed areas, e.g. Beijing, Shanghai, and Guangdong, have the most number of doctors per capita.

Most institutions per 10,000 people:

1. Xizang
2. Hebei
3. Qinghai

Fewest institutions per 10,000 people:

1. Shanghai
2. Jiangsu
3. Anhui

N

0 125 250 500 Miles

Most doctors per 10,000 people:

1. Beijing
2. Zhejiang
3. Tianjin

Fewest doctors per 10,000 people:

1. Jiangxi
2. Anhui
3. Yunnan

*Medical institutions include hospitals, primary healthcare institutions, and public health centers.